Who is MISS RODEO KENTUCKY?

“Miss Rodeo Kentucky, Inc. is a state-level organization under Miss Rodeo America, Inc. The mission of the organization is to select one young woman in each division to serve as an official ambassador who will promote the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA), our Agricultural Industry, the Western way of life, and the Commonwealth of Kentucky at the annual Miss Rodeo America pageant. Our primary goal is to provide educational and career-building opportunities to the young women who compete in the pageant and to foster their growth and development to be professional leaders of tomorrow.”

The State Pageant

Each November, young women from across the state gather for three days of competition that culminates with the crowning of the new Miss Rodeo Kentucky, Miss Teen Rodeo Kentucky, and Junior Miss Rodeo Kentucky. Contestants spend years honing their horsemanship skills, improving their knowledge and elevating their public speaking skills before undergoing a rigorous pageant schedule.

Each contestant's abilities are assessed in five categories over the course of several pageant events: horsemanship, knowledge, public speaking, personality and appearance. Pageant Judges, who come from across the United States, are selected based upon their experience in the equine and rodeo industries, as well as their understanding of the importance in selecting well-rounded representatives.

Pageant Divisions:

Miss Rodeo Kentucky: 20-25

Miss Teen Rodeo Kentucky: 15-19

Junior Miss Rodeo Kentucky: 10-14

How does MISS RODEO KENTUCKY works for your brand?

HOW CAN WE MARKET YOUR PRODUCT OR SERVICE?

During her year, the reigning Miss Rodeo Kentucky will travel upwards of 20,000 miles on behalf of Miss Rodeo Kentucky, Inc. and her gracious sponsors. This exposure includes several thousand air and road miles, through many different airports, cities, and states. She will attend PRCA-sanctioned rodeos, public appearances, and radio/television interviews across the entire nation representing the great state of Kentucky, professional rodeo, and the Western lifestyle.

Also, she will be among the group of distinguished young women competing for the coveted title of Miss Rodeo America each December, at the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo (WNFR), in Las Vegas, NV.

Miss Rodeo Kentucky is routinely a “look-to” for trends in the western fashion industry, a “go-to” for horsemanship information and an all-around American cowgirl icon.

Throughout the year, sponsors have the opportunity to utilize Miss Rodeo Kentucky for various marketing campaigns and promotional appearances. These promotional opportunities can include radio/television commercials, print advertising, on-location appearances, and much more.

All sponsors will receive a photo of the reigning Miss Rodeo Kentucky with the sponsor themselves or the sponsored product. For the duration of the sponsorship, sponsors are granted the license to identify themselves as a Miss Rodeo Kentucky sponsor.

PRINT MARKETING

There are a few print marketing options in addition to the national and state pageant programs.

Each year, each current Miss Rodeo Kentucky titleholder hands out full-color, 8.5x11 autograph sheets at public engagements across the entire nation, and in some situations, internationally.

Typically, 6,000 of these are printed per year. Depending upon the level of commitment, the autograph sheets will display a logo, name AND contact information for each sponsor.

SOCIAL MEDIA

Miss Rodeo Kentucky utilizes primarily Facebook and Instagram to promote our organization's initiatives, titleholders and our sponsors. In addition to those social media outlets, we also release content to TikTok and Twitter.

Our in-house marketing team can help tailor a social media strategy to specifically meet your business needs!

Miss Rodeo Kentucky, Miss Teen Rodeo Kentucky and Junior Miss Rodeo Kentucky will have access to the social media accounts when they are traveling across the state, region and nation. This gives us a unique opportunity to promote our sponsors nationwide, in the thick of the action!
